India is renowned for being a country of festivals and celebrations, with Lohri being one of them that is distinctive in its meaning and perspective. Festivals are a time for festivity and bring everyone together in harmony. The holiday encourages people to give thanks for God's supplies and to enjoy his works of art. On January 13, 2023, Lohri was enthusiastically observed on the grounds of the Laureate Institute of Pharmacy. The teachers and students were all in a festive mood, and the atmosphere on campus was positive. Everyone arrived dressed festively and appropriately for the event. At 1:00 PM, the celebration got under way. The campfire is one of Lohri's primary symbols. Throughout history, lighting the fire has been a common practise for winter festivals, and to everyone around the globe, it denotes the beginning of longer days. Beautiful paintings created by our pupils served as the preparation. The festival thus began with the lighting of a bonfire and the "Lohri Poojan." On the eve of the festival, Dr. CPS Verma, the institute's dean of student welfare, welcomed the teachers and students in attendance and emphasised the importance of culture. Groundnuts and sweets were also given to the students as they worshipped "Dhooni." Everyone sang and danced around the campfire after Poojan. The harvest holiday of Lohri is celebrated in Punjab, which is also referred to as the breadbasket of India. Irrespective of which state or religion people belong to, Lohri was celebrated with equal enthusiasm by everyone. The day ended on a high note with a delightful sweet's distribution. The function was closed at 03:00 PM with blessing notes by Dr. CPS Verma. No matter what state or religion a person belonged to, they all observed Lohri with equal fervour. With the sharing of a delicious sweet, the day came to a successful

National Girl Child Day is observed nationwide on January 24. In 2008, the Ministry of Women and Child Development created this day. The purpose of National Female Child Day is to draw attention to the discrimination and injustice experienced by female infants. Additionally, this day promotes awareness of women's liberties in our nation. National Girl Child Day is intended to raise awareness of a girl's rights, support the country's female children, end gender biases, and highlight the value of education, health, and nutrition, according to the women and child development ministry. Numerous celebrations honouring girls are held nationally as part of the national holiday. On January 24, 2023, the Laureate Institute of Pharmacy will celebrate the National Girl Child Day. In the auditorium, Dr. Pravin Kumar spoke and welcomed the audience. Following the greeting, the following are some of the day's festivities and events Competitions in poster design, essay writing, and slogan creation little girls with big dreams become women with vision was the essay's central subject. Nine students compete in the essay contest, seven compete in the poster contest, and five compete in the catchphrase contest. At 4:15 PM, when the celebration was about to come to a close, Mr. Shiv Kumar Kushwaha gave a speech of thanks and summarised the day's events. The primary goal of the National Girl Child Day celebration at our college was to • highlight the need to address the problems of gender bias in our society and to change society's perception of women. To raise students' awareness of the value and significance of girls in society, to end all forms of discrimination against them, and to guarantee their legal equality. Human and Social, as well as to encourage creativity among the college pupils. All of the activities were a huge success, and they helped many students and employees understand the value of the girl child and the need to honour it. The participants were overjoyed to take part in the activities, and the programme got fantastic feedback.

Every year, India celebrates its Republic Day on January 26. The nation will commemorate its 74th Republic Day in 2021. Indian independence from the British Raj was achieved in 1947, but it wasn't until January 26, 1950, when the Indian Constitution took effect and India was proclaimed a republic and an independent state. The Constitution's Drafting Committee was led by Dr. BR Ambedkar. In addition, November 26 is observed as Constitution Day in India every year because it was on that day in 1949 that the Constituent Assembly of India enacted the Constitution of India. Our institute held a celebration for the day. The structure was attractively decorated with flowerpots and flags from many countries. With happiness, we were giddy as children. Because it was an issue, everyone was feeling quite patriotic and joyful. Since it was a source of great pride for all of us, everyone was feeling incredibly patriotic and joyful. After all, it was on this day that the Indian Constitution went into effect and our nation became a republic. Dr. M.S. Ashawat, the college's principal, raises the flag on this day on the Laureate Institute campus. Some pupils participated in the chorus singing of some extremely moving national songs. All of the students and members of the college staff received treats and snacks as the event came to a close.

Report on Girls Hygiene and Safety

Good menstrual hygiene is essential for the health and dignity of girls and women. Discussions on menstrual hygiene are important for adolescent girls to clarify existing myths and misconceptions around menstruation. Improving menstrual hygiene is important from the point of view of personal comfort and increased mobility. It also reduces the likelihood of infections resulting from poor hygiene practices during menstruation. Providing girls with knowledge and skills on maintaining menstrual hygiene improves college attendance among girls, who otherwise may not attend college during those days or even drop out of college altogether. A guest lecture was delivered by Dr. Pallavi Singh on how to promote the hygiene and who can promote hygiene. These topics were discussed in the conference hall of Laureate institute of pharmacy on 10th march 2023. The main points were discussed in this event are

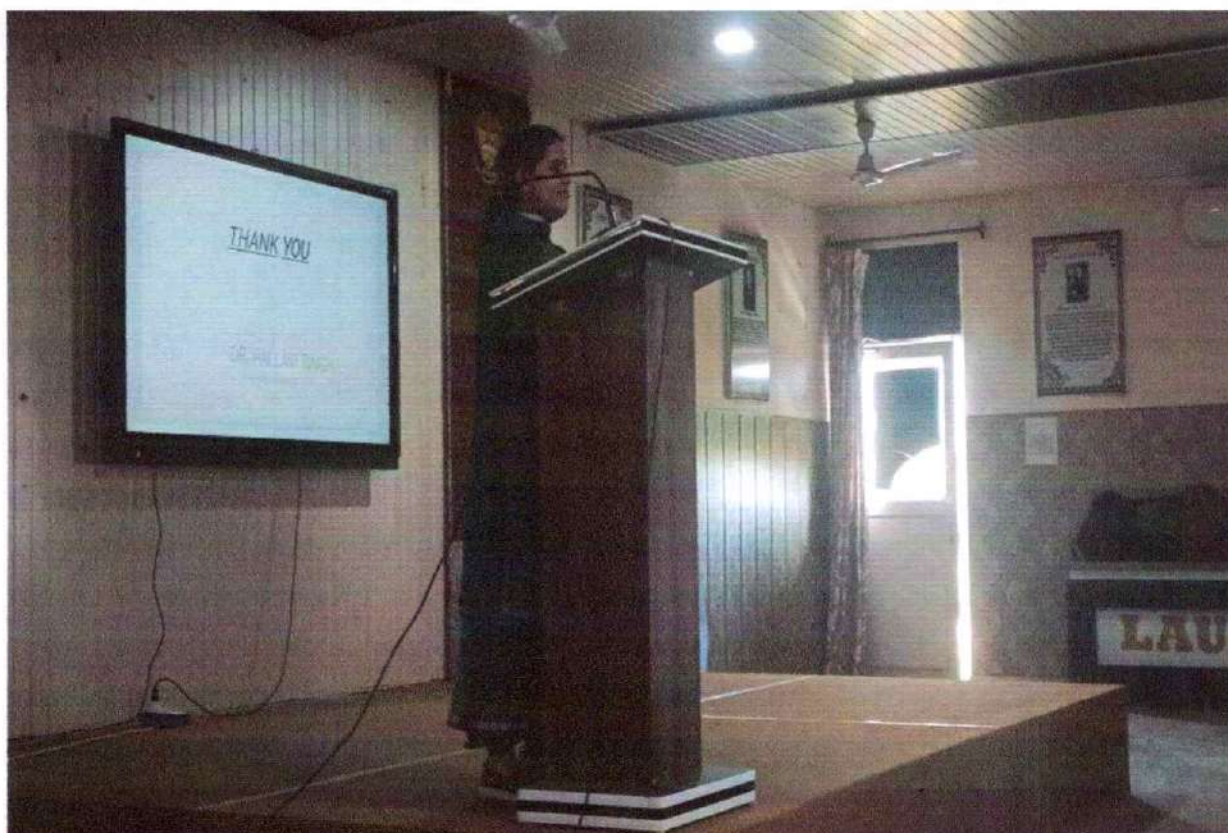

- Provision of health education to girls and women on menstruation and menstrual hygiene.
- Increasing community action to improve access to clean toilets with water, both at home and in schools.
- Promoting the availability and use of sanitary products.
- Enabling safe disposal of sanitary products.
- Menstrual Hygiene can be promoted in the community and in schools or colleges.
- It is best to start with adolescent girls; although, other women in the reproductive age group would also benefit from the information and access to sanitary products.
- The Anganwadi Workers and the members of women's Self-Help Groups can make a substantial difference to menstrual hygiene practices in the community.
